

Expert Tips I

You have learned a lot about the programme. We know give you some expert tips:

If you multiply the equations of two surfaces, they are added together. If you know subtract a small value from this product, the intersaction curve becomes smoother. This means that the two surfaces melt together.

In the formula we subtract the parameter  $a$ . It is set on 0, but if you increase it you can watch how the surfaces melt together.